Design brand MARBERA, known for their delicious candy coloured marble pieces, is the interior brand to know this summer, and onwards. Ancient and delicate with inimitable veins and wide possibilities for experimentation, marble and onyx are uniquely crafted to create functional, timeless objects, each piece starting with a single rock or slab. From plinths to coffee tables and stools, lamps to vases and smaller objects, each piece balances beauty and functionality, acting as jewellery for your home. Founded by Laura Torregrossa, whose grandfather was from a long line of marble-makers, and her parents – her mother an architect and her father a bespoke furniture maker who had a passion for marble and decoration – the creative legacy that she maintains was inevitable. Each piece is diverse, each iconic, each exquisite and, while minimalist in aesthetic, bold in impact.
